Introduction

- The Trustee's are committed to ensuring staff, students, volunteers, visitors and contractors enjoy a safe working and learning environment. The aim of this guidance is to lessen the impact of critical incidents on staff and students and reduce the likelihood of long term detriment by means of a consistent, coordinated and effective support mechanism.
- A critical incident is any situation faced by an individual that causes them to experience unusually strong reactions that can interfere with life at work and home. It is something a person experiences which is outside the range of usual human experience and that would be markedly distressing to anyone.
- This guidance supports the organisation in meeting the requirements of health and safety Legislation as stated in the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the Management of Health and Safety Regulations 1992. These place a 'duty of care' on organisations, with an onus on assessing all risks to staff and putting in place measures to reduce them insofar as is reasonably practicable in the circumstances.
- This document has also been drafted to comply with the principles of Keeping Children Safe in Education (September 2020), Working Together to Safeguard Children and the Human Rights Act.

SLT

- Providing access to staff for education or support to be delivered
- Providing defusing information to line managers
- Ensuring that a debrief takes place following a critical incident as appropriate
- To support and provide flexibility to ensure their necessary release of appropriate personnel to assist in post-traumatic de-brief

Support

The school will work with the LA to maximise the support available. The preferred room will be the Everyone Succeeds Centre and the Health and Well-Being Room.
- When a critical incident impacts on a small number of people, or a single person, the school will look to provide individual support and call on the expertise of external agencies as appropriate.
- The DSL will update St Helens safeguarding unit on all critical incidents and write a report on how this was handled, which will be submitted to them.
