

PARTNER OF THE EVERYONE MATTERS SCHOOLS TRUST

Rainford High Word Processor Policy (Examinations)

Everyone Matters

We expect our community to be kind, polite and respectful

Everyone Helps

We expect our community to make sensible choices

Everyone Succeeds

We expect our community to work hard

Policy Owner	Director of Business and Finance/Exams Officer
Scope of the Policy	This policy applies to all of the school community
Last reviewed by trustees	March 2023
Next review due	March 2024
Summary of key changes	New Policy

Word Processor Policy (examinations)

1. Introduction

This policy on the use of word processors in examinations and assessment is reviewed and updated annually, early in the autumn term, on the publication of the updated JCQ regulations and guidance contained in the publications Access Arrangements and Reasonable Adjustments (AA) and Instructions for Conducting Examinations (ICE). There is no requirement to process an application using Access Arrangements Online (AAO) or to record the use of the arrangement. No evidence is needed to support the arrangement (AA 5.8).

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Examination Policy.

2. Principles for using a word processor

The purpose of an access arrangement is to ensure, where possible, that barriers to assessment are removed for a disabled candidate preventing them from being placed at a substantial disadvantage as a consequence of persistent and significant difficulties (AA section 4.2.1). Students at Rainford High have access to the use of a word processor when it is demonstrated that the quality of their language significantly improves as a result of using a word processor due to problems with planning and organisation when writing by hand. If this is the student's normal way of working at Rainford High they may be granted the use of a word processor within the School where there is a significant amount of writing such as English, History and Politics.

Students that Rainford high may consider would benefit from the use of a word processor where it would significantly improve the quality of their language include, for example, those with (AA 5.8.4):

- a learning difficulty which has a substantial and long term adverse effect on their ability to write legibly;
- a medical condition;
- a physical disability;
- a sensory impairment;
- planning and organisational problems when writing by hand;
- slow handwriting that would typically qualify for extra time but with the use of a word processor, if this is their normal way of working, would no longer be required.

3. The use of a word processor (AA section 5.8)

The use of a word processor in examinations cannot be granted to a candidate simply because they would rather type than write in examinations, or because they can work faster on a keyboard, or that they use a laptop at home. The use of a word processor must reflect the candidate's normal way of working at the School. Candidates may not require the use of a word processor in all subjects, as their methods of assessments may vary (AA 4.2.3). The use of a word processor will be considered on a subject-by-subject basis.

The use of a word processor in non-examination assessment components (for example controlled assessments or coursework components) will be considered standard practice unless it is prohibited by the specification.

Students using a word processor at Rainford High as their normal way of working for extended writing will have the spelling and grammar check/predictive text disabled.

The use of a word processor at Rainford High does not allow the student to have extra time. An application for extra time can be applied for if it is judged that the candidate's persistent and significant difficulties in interpreting questions and formulating their typed answers meet the published criteria for extra time, and an approved application has been made.

4. Word processors use in examinations

It is essential that the integrity of the examination is maintained whilst at the same time providing access to assessments for disabled candidates. (AA 4.2.1) The use of a word processor cannot be granted where it will compromise the assessment objectives of the specification in question (AA 4.2.2)

The School ensures that it complies with ICE booklet in relation to the use of word processors.

Candidates must be reminded to ensure that their Centre Number (10101), candidate number and the unit/component code appear on each page as a header or footer.

The candidate must number each page appropriately.

Candidates should use a minimum of 12pt font and double spacing in order to assist examiners when marking.

Invigilators must remind candidates to save their work at regular intervals in addition to the 'autosave' set up on each laptop where possible.